A small feather rain saunters it's saucy way down the street below us and up Montmartre to the place where wind kindles and eye drifts over the city of lights sparkling Eiffel Tower Paris adrift in splendor all glimmer the world a glow and washed in delight glory. We loved our week here. We will return. This apartment has met our every need and we will look back upon it as a haven. Merci Merci

We had a great stay at Design at d'Orsel, Paris. Gail was very helpful from start to finish, and well organized. Georgina was very kind to accommodate your schedule, and was most gracious to offer any help we needed. Well done!

Met on site at the time arranged, instruction booklet for the apartment and the area was excellent. The apartment was a decent size for Paris. Anywhere in Montmartre can be noisy but this particular street was not to bad. One night we were awoken at 0200 with someone singing on the street but it was Saturday night and the other nights were OK. Street quieted down about 10pm and started up again about 0800. The water pressure in the shower was excellent and the bed was comfortable! Only real downside is the four flights of stairs and no elevator so have to lug suitcases quite a way. Otherwise, a good option for Paris.

Overall we were very happy with our stay. Occasionally the stairs were a bit noisy. The apartment was very cosy. It was a great first experience to stay in an apartment versus a hotel room. We will be doing this again the future.

Thank you for the use of your apartment during our stay in Paris. Georgina was very helpful and gave us a bottle of wine upon arrival. It was lovely to come into a nice bright and clean place. The use of the extra bed with the sofa was very much appreciated. The entrance inside to the apartment is very clean also. Very comfy bed too. The information booklet in the apartment is fantastic and the whole booking process was very efficient. The shower is great! My daughter and partner stayed in your Houdon apartment a few years back and put me onto this site and I will recommend it to friends. Thank you again.

We had a great stay. The street is very quiet as it is essentially a dead end for cars, and tourists generally do not walk this far to the east. The easy access to metro Barbés gave us extra travel options. The apartment was a perfect size for our party of three. Would love to come back!

I had a wonderful time in this apartment. The 69 steps are a bit of a challenge. Merci PerfectlyParis.
