5 January 2009

Gail & Preston, We had to write to express our delight with the apartment, Tranquility in the Eighth, which we rented between 29 December and 5 January 2009. It was everything one could hope for, being especially well equipped, spacious, and comfortable and in a very good location to local shops and the Metro. Having 2 delightful patisseries at the top of the street was a fabulous way to start each day, and spotting the Saturday market in the same location made us feel a little like local Parisians for an hour or so. We also found a couple of nice bistros within easy walking distance, and the information in your folder was very useful. Thanks again, including Preston's welcome on arrival and his ready assistance the following morning, when we underestimated the weight restrictions in the small lift. Our fault, not yours! If you could post this vote of thanks in your Guest Reviews, please?

Le Musée Marmottan Monet displays the preparatory sketch for your Caillebotte print, "Rue de Paris, Temps de Pluie", 1877. This lovely little museum is walking distance from the metro stop La Muette (line 9). It's great to be so close to so many places. It was especially convenient to be so close to St. Lazare the morning we took the train to Bayeux where we viewed the Bayeux Tapestries and the next day took a 9-hour tour of the American Beaches of Normandy with "Battle Bus" – a great choice (www.battlebus.fr). We truly appreciate this lovely apartment
